Know how far to trust an answer before you act on it.

TrustLens AI shows how confident each answer is and the evidence behind every claim, so you can check it yourself before you apply, pay or decide.

Guests can start right away. Anything you save carries over when you create an account.

Every answer shows its working.

You see the confidence first, then the claim, then where it came from.

Ask in plain words

Type a question about eligibility, fees or deadlines. Search topics, or ask a follow-up whenever something is unclear.

See how confident it is

A confidence level and meter come with a short list of reasons: how many sources, whether they agree, and how recent they are.

Open the evidence

Select any highlighted claim to see its source, page, section and the date it was last checked.

Some answers are strong. Some are honestly empty.

When evidence is thin, conflicting or missing, TrustLens says so instead of guessing. You always know which kind of answer you are reading.

YOU ASKED

Can I apply for GATE 2027 if I'm in my 3rd year?

TrustLens Assistant

High confidence

86% confidence

The rule is stated clearly in one source, but 2027 rules aren't published yet.

Why this confidence

- The rule appears in the eligibility section of the sample brochure.
- Rules for 2027 are not yet published; this relies on earlier-cycle wording.
- Only one source consulted, with no conflicting source found.

Answer

Yes, 3rd-year students can apply for GATE 2027, as long as you meet the official eligibility criteria. Final rules may change when the 2027 notification is released.

Before you act

Do not submit a form or pay a fee until you have matched your degree, year and category
